WALTER BAKER & CO. LTD.
Established 1780
DORCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTSLARGE CITIZEN
ARMY PROPOSED133,000 a Year for Three Years is the Plan Outlined by Secretary Garrison of the War Department and a Regular Army of 141,848.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 6.—An outline of the army's part in the national defense program to be submitted to Congress in December by the administration was made public last night by Secretary Garrison disclosing officially for the first time details of the plan to raise a great continental and citizen army to supplement the regular establishment.

In brief, it is proposed to increase the regular army from 108,008 to 141,848 officers and men (changing the term of enlistment from four years with the colors and three years on furlough to two years with the colors and four years on furlough); to organize a federal citizen army of 400,000 (to be enlisted 133,000 a year, for three years); to strengthen the state militia by increased appropriations and closer cooperation; and to spend $20,000,000 a year for four years on coast defenses and $26,000,000 a year for four years in the accumulation of reserve material for use by a force of 500,000 men.

Mr. Garrison says that the framers of the new policy are fully conscious of the possibility of formulating military policies much better in theory, but that "after concentrated consideration of existing legal and other conditions they think it will be found that almost insuperable objections and difficulties arise in carrying into practical operation suggestions that from the military standpoint might otherwise be very acceptable.

The statement reveals that in the preparation of their plans, the war department officials have called into consultation specialists in various lines of private industry.

"It has been proposed," it says, "to make available in need of services of those in certain kinds of employment requiring special knowledge and skill, such as railroad men, bridge builders, engineers of all descriptions, etc., and leading men in these lines and professions have been collaborating with the war department in an endeavor to formulate, by legislation or administrative action, an acceptable and useful plan with respect thereto.

"In this connection, and because of the patriotic spirit thus displayed it seems desirable to say that if those who are the employers of the young men of the country cannot by reason of age or situation in life, give their personal service, they can do that which will be equally useful by encouraging in every way the participation of those in their employ in the plan of national defense. If they would so arrange their business that a certain proportion of those whom they engage could undertake this national interest, those who did this thing would be acting in the most public-spirited and patriotic manner possible."

The citizen army would be recruited throughout the entire country and organized in geographical divisions. Its members, though enlisted for six year terms, would be required to report for intensive training only for short periods each year for three years and during the remaining three years would be furnished subject to call to the colors in time of war. In addition to officers who may be developed in the course of its operation, Mr. Garrison proposed to draw officers for this force from men who have served in the national guard or regular army or who have been trained in private military schools. Individuals or organizations in the existing national guard free to do so would be permitted to come into the citizen army without change at rank.

AWAY PIMPLES

Bather your face for several minutes with resinal soap and hot water, then apply a little resinal ointment very gently. Let this stay on ten minutes, and wash off with resinal soap, and more hot water. Finishing with a dash of cold water to close the pores. Do this once or twice a day, and you will be astonished to find how quickly the healing resinal medication soothes and cleanses the pores, removes pimples and blackheads, and leaves the complexion clear and velvety.

Resinal ointment and resinal soap

heal skin humors, sores, burns, wounds

and chafing. Sold by all druggists.

SOAP FOR BABY'S TENDER SKIN

The regular use of resinal soap is usually enough to prevent those distressing rashes and chafes to which most babies are subject. This is so,

first, because resinal soap is absolutely pure and free from harsh alkali, and second, because it contains the resinal medication, on which so many physicians rely for skin troubles.

POPE RECEIVES
PEACE REPORTA Special Courier Arrives from the Envoy in SwitzerlandTALK WITH VON BUELOWFormer Chancellor Had Denied Meeting with Marchetti

Rome, Nov. 6.—A long report from Mr. Marchetti, papal envoy in Switzerland, concerning negotiations of some sort with Prince Von Buelow, former chancellor of Germany, arrived at the Vatican yesterday by special courier. Despite emphatic denials, the belief here that Marchetti and Von Buelow are discussing peace was much strengthened immediately.

In an article strongly maintaining that a peace mission is under way in Switzerland, with plans for a conference between representatives of belligerent nations, the Naples Mattino says a prominent English personage arrived at Bern simultaneously with the arrival of Prince Von Buelow, former German chancellor, at Lucerne.

The paper draws the conclusion that the presence of these men presages a peace conference. That a large Bernese hotel has been ordered to prepare for the reception of a number of foreign personages is another statement of The Mattino, which adds that a prominent Italian is in Switzerland to represent his country in the negotiations.

Throughout Italy the presence of Prince Von Buelow in Switzerland is regarded as of extreme importance. Washington, Nov. 6.—With official denials from a half-dozen European capitals that peace plans are under way—Petrograd alone not heard from—Washington diplomats are more than ever convinced that a "sounding out" process is attaining important momentum.

From London, Berlin, Paris, Rome and Vienna have recently come practically official statements that peace will not be considered until the enemy is crushed. These facts are regarded themselves as proof that European chancellors are actually discussing institution of a peace movement.

President Wilson and his closest advisers are closely watching the maneuvers among foreign diplomats.

FOSS LIBEL CASE DROPPED.Money Said to Have Been Paid in the Settlement.

Boston, Nov. 6.—By agreement of counsel for both sides, District Attorney Pelletier has not pressed the criminal libel charges brought against former Governor Eugene Noble Foss by Dennis D. Driscoll, secretary of the Trades Union Liberty league. It is understood that a substantial sum of money has been paid to end the controversy.

After a hearing lasting two days Judge Parmenter of the municipal court held Mr. Foss for the grand jury. Matters relative to the case were to have been presented to the grand jury yesterday by Assistant District Attorney McIsaac.

District Attorney Pelletier gave out this statement concerning the not pressing of the case: "Mr. Driscoll and Governor Foss, through their counsel, Melvin M. Johnson and John P. Feeney, joined in a request that no further proceedings be taken in the Driscoll-Foss charges.

"Inasmuch as the entire matter arose in the heat of a political campaign, and as both parties have agreed to forget the incident, the grand jury has requested me to not press the case, which I have done." The statement is signed by Mr. Pelletier.

Mr. Feeney has promised the other side that he would not make known the amount of money passed in settlement.

Mr. Driscoll, seen outside of a civil courtroom, where he was waiting for Mr. Feeney, who was trying a case before Judge Fox and a jury, said that this act exonerates both himself and the league with which he is connected.

Silica.

The marketed production of silica in 1914 for use in the manufacture of pottery, paints, scouring soaps, as a wood filler, and as a polisher is reported to the United States geological survey to have been 181,731 short tons, valued at $612,829. The annual statement of the survey on the production of silica (quartz) for 1914 is now available for distribution.

The United States Geological survey now has available for distribution its annual statement on the clay-working industries in 1914. The total value of all clay products marketed in the year was $164,986,983.

An interesting story, entitled "Robin Hood and His Barn," by Grace S. Richmond, appears in the November Woman's Home Companion. In the following extract taken from the story Robin Hood, the principal character, shows that there is real work to be done in the small as well as the large community:

"I am a farmer," he admitted, "between times, for business. A mechanic, for necessity—and recreation. A surgeon—for love. Nothing more."

"Why don't you get away, into a bigger life—a men like you?" the candidate demanded.

"If I had, I shouldn't have been here to send your cat and your arm," replied Robin Hood, with composure, though he flashed a little. "And there happen to be other arms, and lives, to send up here."

"Of course there are," agreed the candidate quickly. "Doubtless you find plenty to fill your time. But, in a big city the opportunities would necessarily be larger."

"Before Robin Hood could answer, a door behind him opened a crack and a quivering old voice called, 'Ehoy, hey!'"

"The young man sprang up. 'Yes, father,' he called back to the kindest voice in the world and went into the room behind, gently closing the door. The candidate, by his whole life's training quick of observation and interpretation, felt his question partially answered."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it cannot cause injury. No difference what all your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.—Adv.

SAYS NAVY OFFICER
BEGGED FOR DIVORCEFormer Wife of Lieutenant Commander
William P. Cronan Sues to Collect for Consenting.

Washington, Nov. 6.—"Oh, for God's sake, give me a divorce," he said. He threw himself into my lap and cried bitterly, but I said, 'No!'"

Thus did the one time wife of Lieutenant Commander William P. Cronan, in court yesterday, describe the return of the naval officer from a trip around the world in 1909. It was the first appearance of the attractive young plaintiff in court since hearing began in her suit to collect $7,000 on an alleged ante-divorce agreement.

"One night in May," she said, "I was awakened by a violent ringing of the doorbell. 'Who is there?' I called, and the voice replied, 'It's Billy; let me in.'"

I opened the door and he went directly to my room. He told me he wanted a divorce, that he did not love me and never had. I asked if he had discovered this after he had met two young ladies on his cruise. He admitted he loved another woman.

"I've come to put my life's happiness in your hands," he said to me. "Are you going to stand between two loving hearts?"

"What about my heart," I asked him. "Then, she said, occurred the dramatic incident described and her final, "No!" he said, that is, until the arrangement was made later by which she was to receive $10,000.

Uncle to a Whole Town.

In the "Interesting People" department of the November American Magazine appears an account of Addison Bain, who is uncle and friend to a cityful of children who find him more delightful than many a real uncle. Following is an extract from the article about him:

"All countries have their 'fathers,' but Addison Bain, health officer, park superintendent, and head of the children's detention home, is officially recognized uncle of every one of Marion's (Ohio) 25,000 inhabitants, and in his avuncular capacity he is called upon by all to do things they cannot or do not care to do. And when people are not wondering whether they can find him more delightful than many a real uncle. Following is an extract from the article about him:

"His house near DeCliffe, a suburb of Marion, was dubbed by his neighbors 'Bain's Children's Home.' He made room for as many as he could so as to save them from the country infirmary.

Enough were crowded in that place then, and their lot was pitiable. He and Mrs. Bain volunteered to take them all and bring them up as best they could, realizing that almost any change would be an improvement. His insistence that the country's wards be better cared for finally brought about the building of a county children's home.

"Since their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Bain have adopted and reared fourteen orphans and homeless children, and this in addition to bringing up five of their own."

"Once every year he entertains every child in Marion county at his 'pic day' in the parks. There it is one learns where his affectionate nickname was first earned. From dawn, when the first helpers arrive—sturdy twelve-year-olds who assist in preparations—to way after dark, when the last monster balloon has been sent up, the park simply hums to 'Uncle Addie.'"

Washington, Nov. 6.—Substantial expansion of the business of national banks since the inauguration of the federal reserve system is shown in a statement by Comptroller of the Currency Williams, based on the returns of the 7,613 national banks of the United States to his call for their condition Sept. 2. "The total resources of these banks on Sept. 2," says the statement, "exceeded by more than $424,000,000 the greatest resources ever shown by any previous call in the history of the national banking system, and amounted to $12,267,090,429. The increase of resources over the call of June 23, 1915, was $471,000,000. The increase in resources over the call of Sept. 12, 1914, was over $783,000,000. Loans and discounts, including letters of credit and customers' liabilities on account of acceptances, show an increase over the June statement of $185,000,000, and an increase compared with Sept. 12, 1
